Improper/Abnormal employment- Staff had Trade test one certificate in 2010 and was employed in 2012 on grade level 07/2 instead of Grade level 05. There is no justification for the staff to be employed on Grade level 07/2 since he had just 2 years experience between the year of obtaining the certificate(2010) and the year of employment(2012). However, since the staff is presently on Grade level 07 as the highest bar of his qualification, he should not be promoted beyond the grade he is currently enjoying unless he added additional qualification.	As a Trade test one holder as the highest qualification, staff was employed on grade level 07/2 instead of grade level 05. This is a case of abnormal employment. Since staff is still on grade-level 07 till date, he should not be promoted beyond the current grade he occupied unless he acquired additional qualification.
